WALTER'S TEXACO STATION

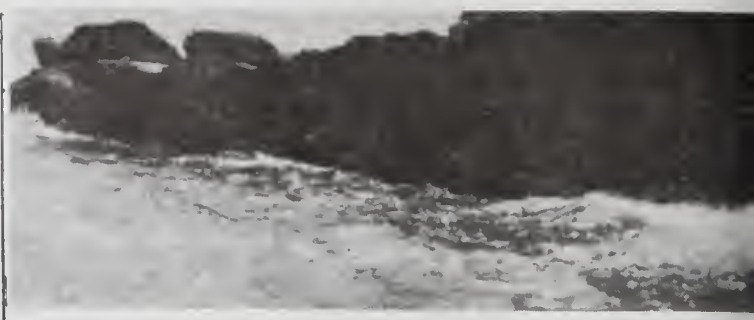
ROUTE 6, FAIRHAVEN 992-0305



You don't have to travel far or journey for a week to see some spectacular sights. We are blessed with some fine vistas right in our immediate neighborhood. Even on a day of moderate swells, the cliff face of Newport, Rhode Island can produce some churning water. These photos are of Castle Hill on the Ten Mile Drive. This section, which will be familiar to most in our area, is the higher elevation of the cliff that is opposite Jamestown. The sea in its restless, unremitting power has carved out a cave in the cliff face and you stand on the peak looking into the cave boiling with the wash of each wave. This is the approach to the Harbor of Newport so traffic is always passing through the channel. It is a great place to lunch or just enjoy the view to the music of the wash below.

Interesting contrast is provided by the different sides of the island in the lee and in protected inlets. This part of the drive faces the sea but is sheltered by islets making salt water inlets as quiet as ponds. This is the same hour as the photos on the cover but no hint of surf ruffles the surface of this cove or disturbs the peace of the beach and anchorage.

Executive Secretary Rehired

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
AUGUST 7, 1990-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Selectmen last Tuesday appointed former executive secretary/present temporary executive secretary Carol Adams as the board's permanent executive secretary, effective August 31, 1990. The vote was unanimous.

Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney said the permanent position had been discussed with Carol and she is prepared to accept. The Personnel Board informed the Selectmen they didn't need to advertise the position. Carol's benefits and salary decision is the board's. Her salary was set at $35,000 per year, with the same fringe benefits as full-time town employees and will receive four weeks' annual vacation.

Selectman Mahoney said the office is also in need of a secretary to assist the executive secretary. At the present time, Melody Mills, former secretary to the building inspector and board of appeals, is working in this office as clerk/typist. The position title will be changed to secretary.

The Personnel Board has said the selectmen need that board's approval on the secretary's position and salary. The position can be posted after the Personnel Board gives its approval. The secretary position will also be effective August 31.

When contacted after the meeting, Carol said her former position as secretary to the Keller Company has been discontinued as Keller's office has moved from Mattapoisett. The golf course/housing development is still on hold while the company seeks alternative funding, she said.

Carol said, "I never expected to return to the Selectmen's office, and I am very happy about it. I've received only positive remarks from people. Everyone has been so nice to me, and especially the Selectmen. Selectmen are giving me a freer reign to handle routine matters rather than bringing everything to the Tuesday night's meetings. We will be tightening up the agenda this way."

In other business, Selectmen:

Perkins that he has applied to the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission to have work performed on a lot he owns located from Route 6 to Church street abutting the Mattapoisett Police Department building. of the police department building. The request has also been filed with the state Department of Environmental Protection.

Mr. Perkins plans to fill in the lot, install a drainage system, install underground fuel storage tanks, install a sewer, fill in a roadside drainage ditch, build a road, pave the surface, excavate to construct a building and reroute the area drainage.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta said he spoke with Mr. Perkins who said the lot next to the police station is low and wet and cannot be built on at this time. Mr. Perkins also said he willing to sell the lot to any interested party, including the town. The lot, 150 feet by 250 feet, has an assessed valuation of $85,000.

Selectman Barnard F. Talty commented where it abuts the town-owned police station and other town-owned land, he would like to see the land held for the town's future use. No action was taken.

MET WITH Fire Chief Donald C. Wood who inquired about the status of the fire station addition. Selectman Mahoney explained that a new architectural design plan should be submitted; one that balances in front. The previous one submitted by the chief and others did not show a balanced front. The chief agreed to contact an architect to obtain new design plans.

On another matter, Chief Wood informed Selectmen he would like to take $100. from his budget to join the Plymouth, Bristol, Barn-stable Hazardous Waste Response Team. This team assists fire departments in all three counties and the $100. is a token amount to aid the team.

The chief explained the team operates out of Bourne and responds with professional persons and equipment to handle a hazardous waste problem. This $100. is a bargain, the chief said. "We don't have either the equipment or personnel. If we should have an accident, they will respond with professionals." He noted that just for a suit to wear at chemical cleanups the cost would be $4,000. Selectmen gave their support to the expenditure.

On a third issue, Chief Wood expressed his concern for the public with the stairs at the fire station to get to the hall on the second floor. He said over a period of years organizations have used the fire station hall and have made donations to the fire department association for its use. "I've been concerned about the liability if someone falls down the stairs." Mr. Mahoney explained that the town's comprehensive liability insurance for town buildings will cover any incident.

FILED THE NAME of Lewis Hammond Stone who asked to be considered for the vacancy on the Board of Appeals.

WILL SEND A LETTER to the state Department of Revenue, Bureau of Accounts requesting that the town be allowed to use $39,394.60 from the fiscal year 1990 Chapter 70 Funds for the purpose of funding the town's share of the Old Rochester Regional District School Committee's budget. The town cited financial hardship as the reason t fund in this manner the budget balance defeated on an override election. The balance i smaller than originally requested as the scho committee expected to receive additional fund ing from the state.

Selectmen stressed these Chapter 70 funds are not free cash but are available funds to be released by the state and due to the town.

NOTED Town Accountant Joseph Bolton and Town Treasurer Kathleen Briggs will be attending Massachusetts Municipal Accounting sessions at Bentley College for 13 consecutive weeks beginning September 6th. It was also noted there is money in the account ant's budget but none for the treasurer. Mrs. Briggs will be paying her own way.

Selectmen feel these are important classes to take for the benefit of the town and agreed to check if funds will be available later when state funds are received to repay Mrs. Briggs. No definite cost was available

RECEIVED FIVE APPLICATIONS for the job of Deputy Assistant Harbormaster/Wharf Commissioners. The applications will be reviewed and the applicants will be interviewed at next week's meeting.

On another matter concerning the wharf, Selectman Talty said there are two major problems in the work scheduled to be done in the harbormaster's office - electrical work and concrete work. He said the 12 inch thick reinforced concrete in front of the office needs to be cut out. Someone has to put a package together for the work. "Personally I am dissatisfied with the progress of the work", Mr. Talty added. "We authorized the work to make room for office space for the harbormaster and shellfish officer and town meeting voters approved $5,000 but no work has been done as yet."

Selectmen went into executive session. The business meeting was not closed but adjourned to Saturday, August 11th, at 9 a.m. at the town wharf for the purpose of meeting with Harbormaster/Wharf Commissioner Steven Mach to determine the progress of the work being done to the office.

INTO FAMILY EYE CARE

My child needs glasses - should price be a factor?

Well yes and no. Of course you want to get what you can afford but you don't want to go over board on a child's pair of glasses. When buying your child's glasses consider his or her preferences but just as important consider what he or she needs. Be careful of too many add-ons that are often offered to a patient that are not really necessary. These tend to bring the cost of glasses way up.

Please pre-register at the library so we will know about how much ice cream to have on hand.

Mr. Arthur Hauptman's Read Aloud Time will end on Friday, August 17th. The children have really enjoyed this special time. They eagerly run into the library asking if "Arthur" has come yet. We really appreciate his generosity in donating his time.

Who is the Enemy?

Editorial, DCJ

Everyone who depends on transportation by car is understandably livid over the sky-rocketing price of a gallon of gas. In a single week, gasoline is nudging to the $1.50 per gallon range.

Don't blame the local gas stations. Most of them have taken a loss of profit.

Blame the miracle worker - the Governor of Massachusetts and his fellow Democrats who are congratulating each other on solving the crisis caused by their own steady spending that has sent the credit of Massachusetts to the bottom of the nation. In addition to the tax of 20.1¢ per gallon before this week, the Democrats have just added the new, additional 6¢ tax bringing the total of 26.1 for each gallon.

Add to that the immediate reaction of the major oil companies who almost beat the anchormen on news broadcasts to the punch. They added 11¢ per gallon on the first flash of news from the Persian Gulf. Do you want to bet that the reaction when the situation stabilizes will not be nearly as swift, or will there be any at all?

Sewer Treatment Plant Dedication

Mattapoisett officials joined Fairhaven officials and representatives of several state agencies in the dedication and open house ceremonies on July 27th of the Water Pollution Control Facility in Fairhaven. Mattapoisett uses a share of the sewer treatment plant and is in the process of adding capacity.

Fairhaven's Executive Secretary Jeffrey W. Osuch opened the ceremonies with an explanation of the beginning of the plant in 1968, and then in 1970 Mattapoisett joined with a 250,000 capacity. "As most of you know, waste water treatment has become a big issue today", said Mr. Osuch. He added that the plant is operated by non-union town employees, not privately operated. Ms. Linda Lima is the chief operator. He thanked all the employees who made the Fairhaven Selectman Joseph Cataldo, Jr. served as the official at the ribbon cutting ceremonies. He said, "Today is another banner day for Fairhaven. to serve most of Fairhaven's and nearby portions of Mattapoisett's sewage needs for the next 20 years."

Representing Mattapoisett at the ceremonies were Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta, Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson, and Water/Sewer Commissioners Donald C. Wood and Charles A. Morgan.

Selectman DeCosta said the plant is very modern and has all the up-to-date equipment. "Mattapoisett is fortunate to have joined when it did, as we had some serious problems in the village. I only wish now the Mattapoisett voters had approved the override for the funds to expand our capacity to 500,000 gallons per day. We are still negotiating with Fairhaven to pay our share of the expansion of the plant and the added capacity. The town may not need it at the present time but there are areas that could be served in the future and this would allow for future development."

Even though he was in the midst of state budget battles, State Representative John C. Bradford (R-Rochester) attended and said that, "Although sewage treatment plant improvements are costly, when you stop to think of the alternative costs posed by pollution, it has been worth it. The results of hard work done by all, with the help from Mattapoisett, can be seen here today - a job well done."

Representatives of the United States Environmental Protection Agency commented they look forward to the continued improvement in the receiving stream of the Acushnet River and New Bedford Harbor. Present were representatives of Fay, Spofford and Thorndike of Boston, architects of the project, and Joseph Greer of Westcott Construction Company of North Attleboro, the general contractor. Both firms were also involved with the original treatment facility

Mattapoisett's superintendent, Mr. Nicholson, was very much impressed with the operation, its efficiency and its lack of odor. The commissioners commented perhaps it would be a good idea for Mattapoisett voters to see this plant in operation and observe the benefits it gives to Mattapoisett.

Project GROW

PRE-SCHOOL APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

Applicants for enrollment in Project GROW, the local public school early childhood program, are currently being sought. Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester children who will be four years old by May 31, 1991 are eligible to apply.

The purpose of Project GROW is to provide pre-school experience to children whose families have been unable to enroll them in another program and who desire a pre-school experience for their child and to provide children with special needs the opportunity to receive service in the least restrictive environment.

Beginning its fourth year of operation, the program offers all children an exciting, developmentally based pre-school experience. Additionally, home visits respond to parents' needs and concerns about their child's development.

The program is staffed by a certified early childhood teacher and an aide. It is located at the Sippican School and operates Monday through Thursday from 9 to 1. Parents are responsible for providing transportation to and from school each day.

Preference will be given to children from low-income families and others in need as determined by the Early Childhood Advisory Council. Applications are being accepted for eight openings.

When a Hurricane Threatens ...

From William O. Simpson, Mattapoisett Civil Defense Director

Stay tuned to radio or television for the latest warnings, advisories and statements. If power fails, use your car radio or a portable transistor radio. Local hurricane information can be obtained by calling 758-4100.

A HURRICANE WATCH means there is a potential for hurricane conditions within 24 to 36 hours. A HURRICANE WARNING is issued when hurricane conditions are expected in 24 hours or less.

In hurricanes, the greatest loss of life is usually from huge storm tides along low lying coastal areas. Residents of low lying areas are URGED TO EVACUATE UPON THE FIRST NOTIFICATION by the Civil Defense Director and/or police or fire personnel.

If your house is out of danger from high tides or streams and is well built, then it is probably the safest place to weather the storm. Never remain in a mobile home. Old Rochester Regional High school has been designated as a SHELTER for Mattapoisett residents who require evacuation.

Board up, put on storm shutters, tape or otherwise protect windows. Danger to small windows is chiefly from flying debris while larger windows may be broken by wind pressure if unprotected.

Store extra food, especially items which Sterilize jugs, bottles, cooking utensils and fill with drinking water. Municipal water services may be interrupted and well pumps may become inoperable.

Have flashlights and/or other emergency lights in working order and handy. Fill your car with gasoline.

Secure everything that might blow away or be torn loose. Objects such as garbage cans, garden tools, toys, signs, porch furniture, and awnings become weapons of destruction in hurricane force winds.

If the center or EYE of the storm passes directly overhead, there will be a lull in the wind lasting from a few minutes to half an hour. Stay in a safe place. Make emergency repairs during the lull if necessary but remember, the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, often with even greater violence.

Upon notification of Civil Defense Director, the following Emergency Traffic Pattern will go into effect: North Street from Church Street, one way south onto Water Street; Water Street, one way west to Main Street; Main Street, one way west to junction of Church Street.

ROAD BLOCKS; North and Water Streets, westbound; Main Street will be closed to southbound traffic at Main and Church Streets; Pearl, Cannon, Barstow and Mechanic Streets will be closed to southbound traffic at Church street. Only residents will be allowed access to above streets.

Fire at Yen's Home

A devastating fire struck the home of Mrs. Meiling Yen at 11 Acushnet Road in Mattapoisett on Tuesday, August 7th, at about 3:10 p.m. No one was at home at the time. Mrs. Yen was visiting her daughter in Lexington.

Fire Chief Donald C. Wood said there was extensive damage with an amount of $175,000 set by the insurance company, covering the building and contents.

Neighbors said they alerted the Fire Department after seeing smoke billowing from the rear of the historic house, built in 1856. Chief Wood said 16 men responded from Mattapoisett Fire Department and six from Fairhaven. "We needed the extra manpower to spell our crew during the three hours it took to bring the fire under control (at 6:20 p.m.)."

The Chief explained the fire began in the kitchen, possibly from a faulty gas stove, and quickly spread to the dining room. Much of the problem was due to the aluminum siding which worked like a tin can holding the heat inside, said the Chief.

The house has been boarded up but the odor of smoke still lingers.

Mrs. Yen and her late husband, George, operated Meiling's Restaurant on Route 6 in Mattapoisett for more than 30 years before their retirement.

YW's Standish House

The Levi Standish House, now owned and operated by the New Bedford YWCA, is one of the city's finest examples of a Federal-style mansion. Reminiscent of the days of grandeur resulting from the whaling era, the house stands at 20 South Sixth Street at the corner of School Street in New Bedford.

Completed in 1828, its restored interior provides an elegant setting for social and business functions. A large auditorium, complete with marble fireplaces, brass chandeliers and a Steinert Baby Grand Piano, fills the north side of the first floor. The area is complimented by a double formal parlor with period furnishings, and a small service kitchen.

The facility accommodates groups of up to 90 members.

A winding staircase leads to four smaller meeting rooms, each carefully restored and furnished.

The grounds of the Standish House encompass a well-kept yard and memorial garden appropriate for outdoor events during the summer months.

The mansion was built by Levi Standish, the seventh generation of Miles Standish lineage, a Westport merchant and importer during the whaling days. The home was occupied by the Standish family until 1913,

Buzzards Bay Project

The following is another article in a series on the recommendations contained in the Buzzards Bay Comprehensive Conservation and Management Plan (CCMP). This plan is the product of a five-year effort by the Buzzards Bay Project, which is part of a nationwide program to protect critical estuaries. Each of the articles in this series focuses on a separate topic addressed by the CCMP. The series is prepared by the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies for the Buzzards Bay Project.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE, A SHIFTING SHORELINE AND PROJECTED SEA LEVEL RISE WILL IMPACT BUZZARDS BAY

Like any coastal area, the coastline of Buzzards Bay is subject to sea level rise, the shifting of barrier materials, storms, erosion, and other natural phenomena. Planning Boards, Zoning Boards, other town officials, and local citizens need to consider sea level rise when a plan to develop coastal property within the town is proposed.

We have all heard the warnings about global warming from "greenhouse gases". Greenhouse gases include carbon dioxide, methane, chorofluorocarbons, and other gases released by the burning of fossil fuels. Scientists theorize that the presence of these gases is causing a rise in the Earth's temperature.

Scientists are predicting that a warmer planet will raise the sea level due to an expansion in the volume of water and the melting of glaciers and the polar ice caps. This increase in the volume of saltwater will lead to an inundation of the coast by the ocean, leaving significant coastal property under water. Areas that are now far inland will be more susceptible to coastal storms and flooding. In addition, saltwater intrusion of freshwater will become a problem further inland, as will changes in groundwater levels.

The Buzzards Bay Project recently sponsored research to evaluate the potential loss of upland areas in the Buzzards Bay region due to sea level rise. The results show that even using conservative figures, the communities bordering Buzzards Bay will experience significant losses of coastal uplands due to rising waters. The loss of this upland area will result in more coastal flooding at higher elevations, loss and erosion of wetlands, elevated groundwater levels and saltwater intrusion. Furthermore, these effects will be compounded during storms.

According to conservative estimates, the 11 Buzzards Bay coastal communities could lose 4755 acres of uplands by the year 2100. The town of Wareham will lose the most acres, 227 by 2025 and 1189 by 2100. Falmouth will lose an estimated 966 by 2100, while Acushnet will only lose 56 acres by 2100. These figures are based on a conservative estimate of sea level rise, 1.3 to 2.1 feet per century. This conservative estimate represents the increase in the volume of saltwater that would result from higher temperatures. If the melting of ice and snow are taken into account, the rate of sea level rise projects to be 2.2 to 10.6 feet per century.

Global warming and the resultant sea level rise are receiving significiant political and scientific attention at the international and national level. However, little has been done to address the issue of planning for and managing the effects of sea level rise. Current government regulations, at all levels, are based upon a constant shoreline. Towns need to consider a shifting shoreline and increased coastal flooding when considering any development requests within: flood-prone areas, surface water areas, and groundwater areas. These areas will be subject to most of the effects from sea level rise.

To aid the communities of Buzzards Bay in addressing the problem of sea level rise the CCMP contains five recommendations:

1. The state Coastal Zone Management Office should sponsor public education and awareness programs at the local level and provide technical assistance. This effort should focus on educating landowners and local officials about the problems associated with sea level rise. Another high priority will be to map the critical areas in each community that are subject to sea level rise, flooding and erosion.

2. Buzzards Bay communities should pass by-laws increasing the required setback for septic systems from groundwater sources, surface water bodies, and vegetated wetlands in areas subject to sea level rise, erosion or flooding. The new setbacks should take into account site-specific information on tidal fluctuations of groundwater, predicted movement of the coastline and anticipated inland migration of wetlands.

3. Buzzards Bay communities should establish coastal construction setbacks and regulate construction activities more stringently in areas considered likely to be impacted by sea level rise, erosion or flooding. The new setbacks and regulations should focus on the portions of the 100 foot buffer zone from a vegetated resource area susceptible to changes from the rise in sea level.

4. Buzzards Bay communities should establish higher flood elevations that exceed the minimum elevations mapped by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). New flood elevation maps should be based on reasonable assumptions about the predicted sea level rise. These new maps would make it harder for coastal developers to obtain flood insurance from FEMA.

5. The Department of Environmental Protection should amend its wetlands regulations and adopt performance standards for what is considered "Land Subject to Coastal Storm Flowage" (100 year floodplain). New regulations would help protect threatened wetlands and would make it more difficult to develop or otherwise alter coastal areas within the 100 year floodplain.

Additional information on sea level rise can be obtained from the Buzzards Bay

GET HELP CHOOSING COURSES

Students can get advice on career choices and academic programs during the week of August 20th at Bristol Community College. That's open academic advisement, and prospective students can stop in without an appointment, according to Steven Ozug, director of evening services.

"Academic advisement gives students a chance to figure out their proper courses", said Mr. Ozug. "If they are unsure of the program of study they want to pursue, our counselors can steer them to appropriate required courses necessary for all programs." Counselors can help students register and apply for financial aid, too, he added.

Academic advisement is available at the Elsbree Street, Fall River campus from 5:30 viewed on most southeastern New England cable systems. The lecturer is Philip Zimbardo, a leader in the field. "He has an outstanding reputation as a teacher, writer and researcher", said Mr. McKee.

Participants will view weekly hour-long lectures at 3 p.m. on Saturdays or 6 p.m. on Sundays, and have required reading to do each week. A videotape of each segment will be available in the Learning Resources Center for later viewing. Students will meet on campus three or four times during the semester for orientation and exams. "I will be available by phone during regular office hours to answer students' question", said Mr. McKee.

College credit by television is not a new idea, but it's the first time BCC has offered it, according to Janice Motta, Dean of Continuing Education. "We're trying this course to see if it could serve our area", she said. "Other communities have had great success with such a program. We would like to see it expand to other courses, if there is sufficient interest.

"People lead such busy lives", she added. "College courses by television can put education within the reach of many more people."

"It is a great alternative to traveling to campus weekly for class", said Mr. McKee. "It's a great experiment for this time."

For details on registration for the television psychology course or any other evening or weekend class this fall, call the Division of Continuing Education at 508-676-2811, ext. 155.

The Clue Tour is designed to focus attention on certain objects featured in the Heritage Plantation galleries and to spark family discussion. Each clue gives a series of thought-provoking questions and interesting pieces of information that otherwise may be missed by young visitors touring the museum.

In past years Heritage Plantation has featured a number of family activity games concerning the major loan exhibition in the Art Museum. This year the Education Department has expanded the concept to include the other museum buildings as well.

The Clue Tour is ideal for family outings, campgrounds, or even a rainy day activity that everyone will enjoy. For more information or group rates call 888-3300.

Heritage Plantation is open daily from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. seven days a week. Tickets are $7. for adults, $6. for seniors 65 or older, children under 12, $3.00; five and under are free.

The museum is three miles from the Cape Cog Sagamore Bridge, exit on Route 6A, then take Route 130 to Pine Street and Heritage Plantation.

Plan to spend the day.

Museum Passes at N.B. Library

The New Bedford Free Public Library has museum passes that may be checked out with a New Bedford Library Card at the circulation desk of the Main Library. Passes to the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and the Whaling Museum in New Bedford are available.

FIELD STUDY PROGRAM

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies has dates available for its Coastal Field Studies Program, a hands-on coastal ecology experience designed to introduce students from kindergarten through high school to the coastal ecosystem.

The Lloyd Center has been offering Coastal Field Studies (CFS) to area teachers and their students since 1982. Last year the Center reached nearly 4500 students through its CFS program.

"CFS is a unique learning opportunity for a lot of students", noted Martha Peterson, Education Coordinator for the Lloyd Center. "Our programs allow students to put the scientific concepts that they are taught by their regular classroom teachers to test in the field. They get to use a variety of experimental techniques and equipment as they explore the environment. It is a very enjoyable learning experience."

Field studies are offered during the school day during September and October and from April to June. Each day-long program is tailored to the grade level of the students participating.

Most of the field studies take place at a local barrier beach complex, but last May Michael Ouimet, an eighth grader at Westport Middle School, attended a field study along the Paskamansett River and at Turner's Pond with the rest of his classmates, then seventh graders.

The Westport students spent the day at four different stations, or outdoor classrooms, studying the ecology of the pond and river. The students discovered that, despite the appearance of the water, it is surprisingly clean and full of a healthy stock of creatures which they captured with seine and dip nets.

"At Turner's I learned how come the water was brown, and I didn't really know that before. I thought it was from acid rain and other pollutants, and I found out it was just from the tannic acid in the leaves", Michael said.

Michael has participated in a coastal field study with his class each year for the past three years. He says he looks forward to the annual excursions because "sometimes when we go back things have changed a lot and we can see the differences, like how the dunes have changed and moved."

Missionary/Doctor to Speak

AT LONG PLAIN BAPTIST CHURCH

"We average two tetanus babies a month because an unsterile knife was used to cut the cord. We also average four post delivery infections a month because of birth attendants 'unclean practices'" reports Dr. Maybel Bruce, a missionary with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society. "Also, most Muslim women refuse to be treated by male doctors for any problems related to gynecology or obstetrics."

Many women in Pakistan's Sind province choose to go to Shikarpur Christian Hospital for treatment by one of its several women physicians. The medical team in Pakistan has been greatly reduced through the years through retirements and the lack of replacements. Recently, the mission was forced to close the hospital temporarily.

Q. When should I take my child for a first vision examination?

A. Every child should have a thorough vision examination by age three, unless noticable symptoms, like crossed eyes, appear earlier. A child does not have to know the alphabet or be able to read.

Your optometrist can check your child's ability to see clearly far away and up close; to change focus from far to near and back; and to use the two eyes together as a team.

The optometrist can also detect any tendency toward such vision problems as nearsightedness, farsightedness or astigmatism. Treatment to prevent or slow these problems may be started.

In addition, this first examination is important in diagnosing a "lazy eye" early, when treatment is most effective.

Your optometrist can also determine if your child's vision skills are developing normally and provide help if they are not.

Presented in the interest of better vision by

Dr. Bruce will be speaking at Long Plain Baptist Church on Sunday morning, August 19th, relating her experiences as a gynecologist and obstetrician at the 33-bed hospital where she has practiced for more than 28 years. Slides will be shown at 9:00 a.m. during Sunday School, and a report of the work at the 10:15 a.m. worship service.

Until her own retirement, Dr. Bruce was the medical superintendent, working with a multi-national staff that included medical missionary personnel from Canada, New Zealand, Pakistan, and the United States. With the temporary closing of the hospital, the remaining medical team members are investing their energy and skills in community health projects. Dr. Bruce has received support from Long Plain over most of her mission career. These services are open to the public.
